A total of 40 Indian companies will be on radar of FIIs

dna correspondent @dnaahmedabad

Ahmedabad: In a development which will boost FII inflows, five companies from Gujarat have been included in Global Small Cap Indexes prepared by US-based Morgan Stanley Capital International. Moreover, 39 other Indian companies will also figure in the index from November 26.

The US-based MSCI has carried out the half yearly review of different indices. As a part of this exercise, the investment decision support tools provider has decided to add 44 Indian companies to its Global Small Cap indexes, with effect from November 26, 2014, said the statement issued by the company. Of these 44 Indian companies, five Gujarati companies are Astral Poly Technik, Atul, Sadbhav Engineering, Sintex Industries and Symphony.

It is believed that inclusion in the MSCI small cap indexes will bring these companies on the radar of Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs). "The FIIs which do not have their customized research base use such indices as first hand information for taking important decisions on investment," said Nilesh Kotak, MD and CEO, Dhanvarsha Fincap.

Kotak added that the companies with consistent growth rate are included in such indices, which helps the FIIs taking decision on parking their money.

Except for Sintex Industries, other four companies from the above list have clocked net profit growth of more than 28 per cent on an average in last four years. Samveg Lalbhai-run Atul has clocked net profit growth of 41 per cent on an average in past four fiscals, while Ahmedabad-based infrastructure company Sadbhav Engineering registered net profit growth of 34 per cent. Sintex registered net profit growth of 9.14 per cent in past four years.

Interestingly, India stands on second position in terms of number of companies included in MSCI small cap indexes as 48 companies from China will be included in this index.
